Title of the special session: Arabic Natural Language Processing: Developments and challenges.

Description: Arabic NLP has known important interest and growth in recent years as may witness the increasing number of publications in different NLP tasks over the world. Nevertheless, Arabic is still considered as a low resources language among the community and thereis no dedicated workshops or special sessions in Algeria. Hence theobjective of this session is to provide a venue at ISIA 2022 for Arabic NLP researchers whatever the problem they are addressing.

Covered topics (but not exhaustive):

- Arabic sentiment analysis.

- Arabic Hate Speech recognition.

- Arabic sarcasm and humor detection.

- Arabic fake news detection.

- Arabic text summarization.

- Arabic Information Retrieval.

- Arabic textual similarity.

- Arabic Question-answering systems.

- Arabic Machine Translation.

- Arabic Ontology Learning
